Fine Park Bequeathed to Village Improvement Society by the Late W. I. Powers—New Principal.

(Mrs. E. J. Blodgett, correspondent.)
By the will of the late W. I. Powers, the Village Improvement Society is given $2,000 for the purchase of the camp grove, and the income of $10,000 for its maintenance as a public park and playground. Mr. Powers had planned to make this gift personally, but was unable to conclude negotiations with the railroad company before his death. Should the society be able to complete the purchase at some future time, the income would enable them to make of it a very attractive spot. About 20 acres of land are included in this grove which borders on the Passumpsic river and contains many fine trees. It might be made into a delightful place for picnics, out-of-door entertainments and pageants, sports and games of all kinds. We hope sometime to see this plan carried out and Mr. Powers' name commemorated in this way. With a few personal legacies, the bulk of Mr. Powers' property goes to his daughter, Mrs. Homer Watson. Mr. and Mrs. Watson are to be felicitated upon the birth of a son, Irving Powers, who arrived on earth last Tuesday, August 17.

A new principal has been engaged for the graded school, Clarence Willey of Bristol. Mr. Willey has been recently superior in that part of the state, and has had 30 years' experience in teaching. He is an alumnus of Dartmouth and came very highly recommended.

VERMONT NEWS

A telegram received at Proctor from the war department at Washington states that Corporal John Wilman of Troop C, 12th cavalry, died Tuesday from wounds received at Saenar, Texas, when a force of Mexicans crossed the international border and attacked a United States cavalry outpost. The body was brought to Proctor for burial. Corporal Wilman was 27 years old and enlisted as a private at Columbus, O. On account of marksmanship he was made a corporal. He was considered the crack shot of Troop C.

The Deerfield River Power Co., which is controlled by the New England Power Co. interests, which also control the Connecticut river power plant at Vernon, has bought the property of the National Metal Edge Box Co. of Readsboro, which includes the paper and pulp mill in Readsboro and 12,000 acres of land in the Deerfield River valley. The Box Co. employs about 60 hands. The dam at the Box Co. mill on the Deerfield river at Readsboro was damaged by the freshet of July 8 so that it will have to be rebuilt. This was a crib-work dam 60 feet high and New England Power Co. is already at work on the rebuilding. It is under way. It is the intention of the Deerfield River Power Co. to develop 4,000 electric horsepower at the Readsboro plant and to put in the electrical installation this fall. This is one of the steps in the development of the Deerfield River valley. The New England Power Co. The development of that river began in 1911, and now there are four hydro-electric plants there, having a total capacity of 50,000 horsepower, in addition to the big Somerset storage reservoir. The electrical development on the Deerfield river will aggregate 125,000 horsepower when completed.

Several prominent officers from other domains were present. The total membership is 2,822 with a loss of 63 during the year. At the 11th annual meeting of the grand temple, Pythian sisters, 16 candidates were initiated. Reports showed 16 temples in the state, 517 Knights and 692 Sisters. The following officers for the Past Chiefs' assembly were elected: President, Cynthia Hoyt, of St. Albans; first vice-president, Mettie H. Vance, of Danville; second vice-president, Adella Lawson, of Hardwick; secretary, Colie Walte, of St. Johnsbury; treasurer, Mildred Story, of White River Junction; marshal, Adella Swerdfefer, of Marshfield; committee to draw up by-laws for next session, Adella Swerdfefer, Lizzie Stockwell and Nettie George. The officers of the Grand Temple of the Pythian Sisters of Vermont elected Wednesday afternoon at the Grand Central Hotel, of Hardwick, grand senior, Jessie Farrar, of Montpelier; grand junior, Lillian Zottman, of Burlington; manager, Ada Hardy, of Orleans; grand mistress of records and correspondence, Rachel Sumner, of Montpelier; grand mistress of finance, Mettie H. Vance, of Danville; protectress, Emma Brainerd, of Bellows Falls; guard, Cora Warner, of North Troy; supreme representative, Elvora H. Ewins, of North Troy; alternate, Blanche Welch, of Montpelier; trustee for three years, Eva Buchanan, of Orleans; past chief, Adella Swerdfefer, of Marshfield.

SUTTON

Death of Mrs. Harriet Clark, the Old Person in Town—Opening of Schools.

(H. A. Blake, Correspondent.)
Mrs. Harriet Clark, whose illness was spoken of last week, died Saturday morning about three o'clock. She had been falling several weeks but did not take her bed until Saturday, August 17. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Otis, who died in Sheffield many years ago. She was born in New Hampshire, we think, in the town of Barnstead, November 2, 1829. She was the oldest person in town, being 91 years, nine months and 16 days old. Her husband, Jonathan Clark, died in the month of February, 1899. She made her home with her nephew, S. C. Otis, near West Burke until May 9, 1910, when she came to the home of H. A. Blake, where she has been since. Mr. Blake's late wife being her niece. She came to Mr. Blake's about six weeks before her death. She has been tenderly cared for by Miss Sadie C. Blake and her father all the past years, who have anticipated her every want. She was a member of the Union House Free Baptist church. She was baptized into that church in her girlhood by Elder Abel Bugbee. The funeral service was held at the residence of H. A. Blake Sunday afternoon, Rev. C. R. Upton conducting the service. The burial was at West Burke where her husband was buried. She leaves no nearer relatives than nephews and nieces, Jacob Sulloway, West Burke, and Joseph P. Otis, Clay Center, Clay County, Kansas; nephews, Mrs. Mary F. Willett, Westfield Center, N. B., and Mrs. Ellen Drown, Washington, D. C., being nieces.

All the schools in town began Monday. A Miss Hagat teaches the village; Bundt school, Alva Gilmore; South Ridge, Grace Gray; Forbes school, Mrs. C. A. Aldrich; Wilson, Mrs. Emma Wheeler. We have not learned as yet who is to teach on the North ridge and at the North school. Mrs. Watkins, the mother of Mrs. J. C. Harrison, who was here one year ago, is now boarding at O. J. Conant's.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Houghton from St. Johnsbury Center visited Mrs. Houghton's mother, Mrs. T. J. Mitchell, recently.

Miss Elizabeth Blake of St. Johnsbury is at her brother's, H. A. Blake's, for a few days. She is moving her goods here into the James Stearns house which they lately purchased of Mrs. Morrison. Mr. Orcutt is an old veteran of the Civil War.

A young man from Bangor, Me., will come here as a candidate for assistant pastor for the two federated churches on September 5, and if all parties are agreed, he will receive a call to preach here.
